A clearer digital home for Global Properties Realty.

The redesigned website will present your services professionally, work well on phones and computers, and give clients a more reliable path to contact you and begin a rental application.

FIXED PROJECT INVESTMENT

$2,500

To schedule and begin	$1,250
After design approval	$625
Before production launch	$625

Project goal

Replace the dated website experience with a polished, responsive site organized around buyers, sellers, property owners, tenants, commercial clients, and other priority audiences.

Third-party costs: Domain registration, hosting, Formsite, Resident Research, payment processing, premium software, and other third-party services are separate. No additional purchase will be made without approval.

What the redesign provides

A complete small-business website redesign from planning through launch.

Planning and design Review the current site, improve its organization, and create a modern visual direction consistent with the Global Properties Realty brand.	Responsive development Build up to 10 primary pages or equivalent layouts that work across desktop computers, tablets, and mobile phones.
Services and contact paths Present buying, selling, commercial, REO, and property-management services with clear call, text, email, and inquiry options.	Rental application experience Create a clearer introduction and reconnect the approved Formsite/Resident Research application when account access permits.
Content and search basics Lightly edit existing copy and configure essential page titles, descriptions, imagery, local-business information, and analytics.	Testing and launch Test navigation, links, inquiry forms, accessibility basics, and common screen sizes before connecting the approved domain.
Also included Two consolidated revision rounds and 30 days of post-launch support for defects within the agreed project scope.

Rental application boundary: Formsite, Resident Research, and the connected payment provider will continue handling application fees, consent, screening, and sensitive applicant information. A new screening or payment system is not included.

A few things to confirm

It is okay if you do not know every answer. We can review these together.

1. Domain, website, and email

- Do you own globalpropertiesrealty.com and have access to the account where it was registered?
- Do you know which company currently hosts the website?
- Do you have the Joomla administrator login or contact information for the current website manager?
- Are any business email addresses connected to the domain?
- Do you also own or use gprealtypropertymanagement.com?

2. Rental application and payments

- Do you have a Formsite account and access to it?
- Is Formsite owned by you, Resident Research, or another provider?
- Do you have an active Resident Research account and a primary contact there?
- Which service processes the application fee?
- At what point are applicants experiencing difficulty?
- Is there a way to test the application without charging a real applicant?

3. Business information and content

- Do you have original logo files and photographs approved for website use?
- What legal business, brokerage, license, and contact information must appear?
- Do you have approved privacy, fair-housing, rental, or other required disclosures?
- Which email address should receive website inquiries?
- Who will provide final approval for website content?

4. Optional connections

- Should the website display property listings through an MLS or IDX provider?
- Do you use a CRM, Google Analytics, or Google Business Profile?
- Which social-media and real-estate profiles should be linked?

MLS/IDX feeds, CRM integrations, custom property databases, and other new integrations require confirmation before they can be included or separately quoted.

Recommended ownership

Global Properties Realty should own its domain, website repository, hosting, analytics, and third-party service accounts. Demilade can be added as an administrator or maintainer where access is required.

Secure access: Please do not send passwords, payment-card numbers, Social Security numbers, applicant records, or banking credentials by ordinary email or text message. Account invitations or an agreed secure sharing method should be used instead.
